Array Networks honored as winner in the Annual 2013 CEO World Awards CEOs of the Year Category

Michael Zhao recognized for leading application delivery networking firm and helping businesses scale the performance, availability and security of applications in dynamic network, cloud and mobile environments.

Milpitas, CA DECEMBER 19, 2013 – Array Networks Inc., a global leader in application delivery networking, today announces Michael Zhao has received a prestigious CEO World Award in the CEO of the year category. The coveted annual CEO World Awards program encompasses the world's best in leadership, innovation, organizational performance from every major industry in the world.

Since 2003, Michael Zhao has held the role of president and CEO of Array Networks, a leading provider of high-performance application delivery controllers. Michael is responsible for Array Networks' overall business strategy, including product marketing, product development, sales, production, customer support, and other business related operations. More than 2,000 worldwide customers including enterprises, service providers, government and vertical organizations in healthcare, finance, insurance and education rely on Array to help cost-effectively scale the performance, availability and security of applications and data in dynamic network, cloud and mobile environments.

Array Networks' application delivery controllers, WAN optimization controllers and secure access gateways provide the tools essential to maintaining a seamless end-user experience while simultaneously preventing attacks and data leakage. Unlike vendors that overcharge or under deliver, Array offers true value to customers through a superior combination of feature-rich products, a ten-year record of proven reliability, industry-leading price and performance and an unmatched reputation for customer service and support.

More than 30 judges from a broad spectrum of industry voices from around the world and over 200 CEOs were nominated. Their average scores determined the 2013 CEO World Award winners.

"It's an honor to be named a winner by CEO World Awards for this esteemed industry, peer and world recognition," said Michael Zhao, President and CEO of Array Networks. "This award is due in large part to the commitment of the Array team to delivering high performance application delivery networking technologies with unmatched value to businesses around the world."
